LONDON, NOVEMBER 9.

YESTERDAY, about one o'clock, the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, William Beckford, Eſq; the Lord Mayor elect, with ſeveral of the Aldermen, and the two Sheriffs, attended at Guildhall, when the new Lord Mayor was ſworn into that office, and the chair and other enſigns of Mayoralty were ſurrendered to him, after the accuſtomed manner; the ſtreets were prodigiouſly crowded, and the acclamations of the people were almoſt incredible.

By a letter from the Continent we hear, that Lord Holland's diſorder has rendered him ſo weak, that he is unable to give himſelf any aſſiſtance, and that his Phyſicians expect his Lordſhip, unleſs ſome unexpected criſis happens, can ſurvive but a ſhort time.

We are informed, that a Gentleman of diſtinguiſhed abilities in the Navy, who has been on board the Ruſſian fleet at Hull, has laid one thouſand guineas to one hundred, that their fleet does not enter the harbour of Conſtantinople the enſuing ſummer.

It is aſſerted, that advices of a very intereſting and alarming nature, with reſpect to the Colonies, have lately been tranſmitted from North-America.

Tueſday ſailed from Spithead the Seaford and Boſton men of war, for Jerſey, with ſoldiers.

In a few days General Melville will ſet out for the Weſt-Indies, to take upon him the government of the five ceded iſlands, to which he is appointed.

Yeſterday Lieutenant-Colonel Evelyn of the ſecond regiment of guards, had the honour to kiſs his Majeſty's hand on being appointed Colonel in the 29th regiment of foot.

The ſame day Lieutenant-Colonel Hale of the third regiment of guards, kiſſed his Majeſty's hand on being appointed Colonel in the 20th regiment of foot.

NOVEMBER 10. This day a Council is ſummoned to meet at St. James's, when, among other proceedings, a time will be fixed for the further prorogation of the Parliament, and their meeting for the diſpatch of buſineſs.

Wedneſday afternoon, at two o'clock, Mr. Nuttall, the Solicitor of the Treaſury, waited on Sir John Fielding, and other Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Middleſex, and Liberty of Weſtminſter, at Sir John Fielding's houſe, in Bow-ſtreet, with the pannel of the Jury who are to determine the cauſe in the Court of Common Pleas of Mr. Wilkes, againſt Lord Halifax.

The damages laid in the cauſe between Lord Halifax and the popular Patriot, are 20,000l.

This day the long depending trial between John Wilkes, Eſq; and the Earl of Halifax, will come on at the Court of Common Pleas, Weſtminſter, ſummonſes being ſent yeſterday to the Special Jury to attend for that purpoſe.

Yeſterday William Beckford, Eſq; the ſecond time Lord Mayor, drawn in the city state coach by ſix horſes, and accompanied by the late Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, &c. in their Formalities, the Sword and Mace being carried before them, and the City Officers attending, went by water in the City Barge, with the ſeveral Companies, &c. in their Barges, adorned with Streamers and Pendants, to Weſtminſter; and having walked round the Hall, and ſolemnly ſaluted the ſeveral Courts, repaired to the Bar of the Exchequer, where his Lordſhip took the Oaths appointed, and recorded the Warrants of Attorney. After which they returned in State to Guildhall, where a magnificient entertainment was provided; and ſeveral great Officers of the Crown, and many of the Nobility, Privy Council, and other Perſonages of Diſtinction were preſent.

The Aldermen who accompanied the new Lord Mayor in this Cavalcade, were, beſides the old Lord Mayor as mentioned before, Sir William Stephenſon, Barlow Trecothick, Eſq; Richard Peers, Eſq; Braſs Croſby, Eſq; Thomas Halifax, Eſq; the two Sheriffs, and Mr. Reynolds, the Under Sheriff.

Wedneſday the Earl Temple arrived in town from Stowe, and dined yeſterday with the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor at Guildhall.

We hear that the celebrated Mrs. Macaulay was invited by her brother Mr. Sheriff Sawbridge, at the particular requeſt of the new Lord Mayor, to dine at Guildhall yeſterday.

We are informed, that the ſubſidy of 676,000l. due to the King of Pruſſia at the cloſe of the late war, has never yet been paid, notwithſtanding what was ſaid at that time in public on a certain occaſion, about "the ſupport of the dignity of the Crown."

We are informed, that a patent is preparing to create Sir Jeffery Amherſt a Peer.

Advice is ſaid to be received, that when the laſt expreſs arrived at Smyrna from Conſtantinople, the banner of Mahomet had been diſplayed from the top of the tower of the Grand Signior's Seraglio, which was never done but in the moſt dangerous inſurrections.

Advices from Liſbon mention, that ſome propoſitions of a very extraordinary nature had juſt been made to his Moſt Faithful Majeſty, by the Miniſters of two Foreign Courts, which had thrown the whole Court into no ſmall conſternation.

Some private letters from Berlin mention as a rumour there, that the King had determined to join the Ruſſians, in caſe the houſe of Auſtria ſhould attempt to oppoſe the Court of Peterſburgh in the preſent war againſt the Turks.

NOVEMBER 11. Yeſterday the Right Hon. the Earl of Harcourt ſet out again on his embaſſy to the court of France.

A certain Great P-------- hath more than once declared, that he ſhould not conſider himſelf worthy of the name of a P------, if he ſhould forgive Mr. W------.

It was reported yeſterday that letters were received from Paris, giving an account that the French ambaſſador at Conſtantinople is taken into cuſtody in that city, and cloſely confined.

Some advices from Smyrna mention, that the Grand Signior, in caſe of his perſon being in danger from his rebellious ſubjects, had ſolemnly ſworn by his prophet, to extinguiſh the whole Ottoman line, by putting to death every Prince of the blood royal, now confined in the priſons of the Seraglio.

An earthquake was lately felt at Drontheim in Norway, which ſhook the country for many leagues round, and did conſiderable damage.

A letter from Leghorn, dated October 20, ſays, "Mr. Dick and Mr. Udney, Engliſh Conſuls, the one in this city, and the other at Venice, have received orders from their Court, to cauſe all the ſhips of their nation, to obſerve a perfect neutrality in the war between Ruſſia and the Ottoman Porte."

A letter from Warſaw, October 18, ſays, "Prince Repnin will paſs the winter here, notwithſtanding the Senatus Concilium have oppoſed it. It is given out, that the Prince Primate being willing to depoſit at the Grod, a manifeſto againſt this Senatus Concilium, the acceptance of it has been refuſed and an anſwer given, that as the prelate was on the ſpot, he might have been preſent and declared his ſentiments viva Voce, or have ſent them thither in writing, if he was then indiſpoſed."

Among the number of important trials, that are to come on this Term at Weſtminſter-hall, the following remarkable one is to be determined. When the firſt Coloniſts went over in 1664, they poſſeſſed themſelves, among other grants, of 1500000 acres of land bordering on the province of Connecticut; theſe lands have been at different times diſputed by the Indians; they urging that they were obtained contrary to the expreſs conditions of their charter; however nothing material was done. A young Indian Chief, who had been educated at New-York in the beſt manner that country can afford, and who is ſaid to be poſſeſſed of great ſpirit and genius, making himſelf acquainted with the nature of the diſpute, has lately commenced a ſuit againſt the Coloniſts, in which he is warmly ſupported by ſome of the beſt Council both there and here. Whoſe ever property it turns out, it will amount to little leſs than a million ſterling.

Laſt week a young recruit appeared at the Rotation office in Bow-ſtreet, to be ſworn into the ſervice of the Eaſt-India company, when a gentleman preſent obſerved, that from voice and features he ſuſpected the recruit to be a woman: on a more particular obſervation, every one preſent was of the ſame opinion, and two women were deſired to examine the party in an adjoining room. On returning into court, and declaring her to be a woman, the recruit burſt into tears, and ſaid that her motives for this action were her having a huſband, whom ſhe dearly loved, at that time in India; that her life was miſerable without him, and nothing ſhould prevent her in her reſolution of going there. Every one preſent was affected with her tears, and on her conſenting to return to her parents, who live in reputation in Southwark, Sir John Fielding humanely promiſed her, that if ſhe continued in the ſame mind, and that her happineſs depended on it, he himſelf would ſpeak to ſome of the Directors, and procure her a paſſage to India, in the character of a lady's maid; the poor creature was melted with his kindneſs, which ſhe acknowledged in the moſt greatful terms. She is a very agreeable young woman, and ſeems about eighteen years old.

PREFERRED. Wedneſday Lieut. Col. Sorrell, of the ſecond regiment of guards, kiſſed his Majeſty's hand on being appointed firſt Major in the ſaid regiment. As did Lieut. Col. Craggs, on being appointed ſecond Major in the ſaid regiment.

Lieut. Col. D'Avenant is appointed Colonel in the above regiment, in the room of Col. Evelyn.

Lieut. Col. Charles O'Harra, Governor of Senegal, is appointed Captain-Lieutenant in the ſame regiment.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland hath recommended the Rev. Richard Marlay, M. A. to the Deanery of Fernes, in that kingdom, and has alſo appointed him one of his chaplains.

We hear that Lieut. Col. Vaughan, of the 46th regiment, is appointed Governor of Weſt-Florida.

The Earl of Bute is gone to a ſmall village in the neighbourhood of Verona, in Italy, where his Lordſhip before recovered his health by the uſe of medicinal waters there.

A Patent is making out for a Peerage for the wife of a certain Lawyer, who cannot accept the honour himſelf, from being of too much conſequence to the Lower Houſe, to be removed to any other ſituation.

The meeting of the Parliament is now fixed for Tueſday the 9th of January next, and the Convocation of the Clergy to Wedneſday the 10th.

The following ſhort account of the proceedings between the Earl of Halifax and Mr. Wilkes may be depended upon as authentic:

John Wilkes, Eſq; againſt the Earl of Halifax and the three Meſſengers, who executed the General Warrant. Original was ſued out, teſted June 1, and returnable June 19, 1763; and the Earl being ſummoned, caſt an Eſſoign, which was adjourned till Nov. 18.----Then comes in Privilege; which being at an end, and all the Eſſoigns expired, a Diſtringas was taken out, teſted May 9, 1764, returnable May 27.----The Sheriffs returns 40s. iſſues.----The Earl does not appear.----The Court directs 5ol. iſſues.----An alias Diſtringas is taken out, teſted May 30, and returnable June 18.----The Sheriffs returns his iſſues.----The Earl refuſes to appear.----The Court orders 500l. iſſues.----A Pluries Diſtringas is taken out, teſted June 22, and returnable July 8 [illegible] was what the Earl waited for; and here the affair dropped. But the outlawry being reverſed on the 8th of June, 1768, the Court of Common Pleas was moved on the 30th of that month, that Mr. Wilkes might have leave to revive his cauſe, which was accordingly granted ſoon after. And Yeſterday morning, at ten o'clock, came on at the Court of Common Pleas in Weſtminſter-Hall, the trial between the Right Hon. Lord Halifax, and John Wilkes, Eſq; before a Special Jury.

The Lords Weymouth and Rochford were ſubpœna'd. As ſoon as the Court was opened, they deſired to be diſpatched, as it was poſt-day. On which Serjeant Glynn aſked them, if they had the General Warrants in their poſſeſſion, granted by Lord Halifax, to ſeize Mr. Wilkes's papers? and on their anſwering in the negative, Serjeant Glynn told them that was all he wanted to know of them, and they retired. Lord Temple, Humphrey Coates, Eſq; Mr. Beardmore, Mr. Philips, and ſeveral others, were examined, in order to prove the manner in which Mr. Wilkes was taken up, and the uncivil treatment he met with during his confinement in the Tower. Col. Onſlow, in his examination, could not recollect the receiving a certain letter from Mr. Wilkes; but Mr. Philips, on his examination, produced a copy of the ſaid letter he had received from Col. Onſlow himſelf, which occaſioned a great laugh throughout the court. The general charges were admitted by the defendants, and about ſeven the trial ended, when the Jury, after having been out about forty minutes, brought in a verdict in favour of Mr. Wilkes, with four thouſand pounds, and coſts.

Mr. Serjeant Glynn, though much afflicted with the gout, made a moſt excellent ſpeech to Mr. Serjeant Whitaker, which greatly engaged the attention of the whole court.

The Council for Lord Halifax were Serjeants Nares, Whitaker, and Davy, the Attorney General was ill and abſent; the Council for the Plaintiff, Mr. Wilkes, were Serjeant Glynn, Serjeant Leigh, Mr. John Leigh, and Mr. Davenport. Among the great perſons preſent, Lord Rochford and Lord Weymouth ſat on one ſide of the bench; Lord Temple and Mr. Calcraft on the other. The verdict upon the whole gave general ſatisfaction, and the populace, who were exceedingly numerous without the Hall, diſperſed very peaceably.

The Court was exceſſively crowded, and ſeveral of the nobility were preſent. Gentlemen gave two guineas to obtain admittance into the Court in the morning early; at about ten the price fell to a guinea, and half a guinea, and at three in the afternoon people got in for five and three pence.

The following is a correct liſt of the Jury on the above trial.

Sir Robert Clarke, Bart. Shire-Lane.
George Colſon Smith, Eſq; Ditto.
William Sheldon, Eſq; Portugal-Row, Lincoln's-Inn-Fields.
Benjamin Booth, Eſq; Ditto.
Edward Buckley Batſon, Eſq; Hatton-Garden.
David Waller, Eſq; Kenſington.
Edward Buckley, Eſq; Eſſex-ſtreet.
Richard Morhall, Eſq; King's Road.
Charles Piers, Eſq; New Ormond-ſtreet.
Fitzwilliams Barrington, Eſq; Ditto.
Sir Peter Denniſon, Bart. Queen-ſquare.
Nicholas Morriſall, Eſq; Eaſt-ſtreet.
George Harrington Cox, Eſq; Glouceſter-ſquare.
Richard Edwards, Eſq; Red Lion-ſquare.
Robert Nerry, Eſq; Ditto.
Francis Otway, Eſq; Ditto.
Robert Cary, Eſq; Hampſtead.
Robert Hicks, Eſq; Great Ruſſel-ſtreet.
Henry Hixon, Eſq; Ditto.
John Holland, Eſq; Southampton-Row.
John Goode, Eſq; Hart-ſtreet.
Samuel Rodney, Eſq; Lincoln's-Inn-Fields.
Samuel Hartley, Eſq; Ditto.
Henry Robinſon, Eſq; of Church-ſtreet, Hackney.

On Thurſday the following nobility dined with the Lord Mayor at Guildhall, viz. Lord Temple, the Lord Chancellor, the Maſter of the Rolls, Judge Eaſtcurit, Judge Willes, Baron Adams, Baron Perrot, Serjeants Glynn, Leigh, Burland, and Jepſon; and the entertainment was very elegant, and very well conducted, till about one o'clock in the morning, when a ſet of young bloods, as they called themſelves, after they had got in liquor, began to break and throw the empty bottles all over the hall; and the Lord Mayor's and Sheriff's Potters, and Conſtables who attended, could not get Guildhall cleared till near ſix o'clock yeſterday morning.

Lady Temple, who accompanied Lord Temple on Thurſday in the proceſſion of the Lord Mayor's ſhew, made the moſt brilliant appearance of any lady preſent. Her dreſs, which was entirely new, is ſuppoſed to have coſt no leſs than 500l. the jewels and diamonds worn by her on the occaſion were valued at 150,000l.

The Recorder neither went with them to Weſtminſter, nor returned with them; but met them at the Exchequer Court, and quitted them there: He even ſent back to the Lord Mayor the tickets for the entertainment which had been addreſſed to him according to cuſtom. The only decent excuſe that can be made for ſuch behaviour from a Recorder to the chief Magiſtrate of the chief city in the world, is, that he was ill-diſpoſed, and could find no perſons that would accept of tickets from ſuch hands as the Recorder's.

It was a general obſervation within doors, that the company was ſomething leſs numerous, but more reſpectable than is uſually ſeen on theſe occaſions. The ſatisfaction expreſſed without doors was unanimous from a moſt incredible throng of ſpectators, who are ſuppoſed to have much exceeded the number of thoſe who aſſembled even when their preſent Majeſties honoured the city with their company.

An eminent Phyſician ſetting up lately for one of the Hoſpital Phyſicians at St. George's, and who was honoured with the intereſt of a Nobleman remarkable for his wit, told his Lordſhip that he was then pretty ſure of ſucceeding. The Nobleman replied, he knew but one chance againſt him;---when the Phyſician appeared alarmed, he added---and that is Mr. Wilkes becoming a candidate, in which caſe you would be certainly out.

Letters from Venice mention, that the Adventurer Stephano was delivered up to the Ruſſians, in conſequence of his being detected in his fallacies with reſpect to his being the true Peter III. by General Poduoriezani, a native of Montenegro, in the Muſcovite ſervice, who is a great favourite with the people on the borders of Dalmatia, and by whoſe influence, it is ſaid, the Montenegrins have determined to give the Ruſſians all the aſſiſtance in their power.

We hear that the Emperor of Germany, and his brother the Grand Duke of Tuſcany, are ſhortly expected in England, and that they will take up their reſidence at Norfolk-houſe, in St. James's-ſquare, during their continuance in this kingdom.

It is computed there are now upwards of 400 ſail of ſhips in the river to be ſold, which uſed to be employed in the North-American trade before the late taxation of the Colonies. What a conſiderable decreaſe muſt this make in the conſumption of this country.

It is thought that Mr. Trevanion will carry his election for Dover. It is remarkable that Mr. Trevanion was an entire ſtranger to every inhabitant of Dover. His recommendation to the electors was ſolely a letter in his favour, addreſſed to ſome of the chief people by Mr. Wilkes; and Mr. Wilkes's foundation for addreſſing them reſted alone on their cordial reception of, and profeſſions of friendſhip for him, and earneſt wiſhes for the ſucceſs of his cauſe, when he laſt landed at Dover from France.

Laſt night great rejoicings were made in the King's-Bench and in St. George's Fields, on account of the verdict given for Mr. Wilkes againſt Lord Halifax yeſterday in the Court of Common Pleas, Weſtminſter.

And between nine and ten at night, cannon were fired on the Surry ſide, to the number of 45, upon the above occaſion.

Mr. Blackmore, though a King's Meſſenger, received general applauſe yeſterday, for giving his evidence on the above trial in a manner ſo candid, unreſerved, and impartial.

It is remarkable, that Matthew Browne, who was ſervant to Mr. Wilkes, at the time his houſe was plundered, and was to have been examined on behalf of his maſter on the above trial, was, for obvious reaſons, kept out of the way.

It is reported in the city, that Serjeant Sly will ſpeedily beg leave to reſign.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, November 1.

"The journey of the Electreſs-Dowager of Saxony to Potſdam, to viſit the King of Pruſſia, eſpecially at a time of the Year ſo diſagreeable for ladies to travel, has very much puzzled our politicians to find out her reaſon for taking this journey. The following, however, is looked upon as the moſt probable. There is an article in the laſt treaty of Hubertſbourg concluded in 1763, by which the late King Auguſtus III. Elector of Saxony, granted penſions to number of officers, both civil and military, among whom are ſeveral Pruſſians. Now the finances of Saxony being inſufficient for the diſcharge of theſe engagements, it is ſaid that the Electreſs-Dowager is gone to intercede with his Pruſſian Majeſty, ſo that the penſions paid to his ſubjects may be leſſened, at leaſt till ſuch time as the Electorate of Saxony is in a more happy ſituation. If there is any foundation for this way of reaſoning, the gracious reception which her Electoral Highneſs has met with at Potſdam, ſeems to be a good omen of her ſucceſs."

This morning the Lottery Wheels were carried under a guard from Whitehall to Guildhall, as the Lottery is to begin drawing on Monday next.

ST. JAMES'S, November 10, His Majeſty was this day pleaſed to declare, that the Parliament which ſtood prorogued to Tueſday the 14th inſtant, ſhould be further prorogued to Tueſday the 9th day of January next, then to be holden for the diſpatch of divers weighty and important affairs.

GOSPORT, Nov. 10. Yeſterday arrived at Spithead a Ruſſian man of war.

This morning Commodore Spry, who came home in the Jerſey man of war, ſaluted the Admiral, ſtruck his broad pendant, and ſet out for London.

Two armed French ſhips are in the harbour; one bound to Gaudaloupe, the other to Martinico.

WARSAW, October 20. There has nothing remarkable paſſed here between the Ruſſians and the Confederates, ſince the defeat of the brothers Pulawſki and the diſperſion of the party of the Sieur Horaim, who loſt his life there, as formerly mentioned.

The nobility of the Palatinate of Marienbourgh and that of Pomerania, have joined in a confederacy, and have elected for their Marſhal, the Judge Wilezewſki, who intending to ſet out for Warmie, and enter into the territories of the King of Pruſſia, has ſent to demand permiſſion of the Pruſſian General Pomeiſki; but he gave for anſwer, that the King his maſter had ordered him not to ſuffer the Confederates to approach his frontiers nearer than three leagues diſtance. This has preſerved Warmie from a viſit which very probably might have coſt them dear. It is to be feared that this example may alſo engage the nobility of the Palatinate of Culm to the like ſtep.

By freſh advices from Kaminec we learn, that the Ruſſian army is ſtill encamped at three leagues diſtance from that fortreſs, at Zalrez and at Czerk; and that they were preparing for their winter quarters. As ſoon as the General Romanzow arrived at the army, he viſited Choczim, and gave the neceſſary orders to rebuild the houſes which were demoliſhed, either during the ſiege or by the Turks themſelves, that a part of the army might paſs the winter there more agreeably. There are no more Confederates ſeen in the Ukraine, Sodelia, Volhynia, nor in the Belez: The Ruſſians have freed all theſe countries. In revenge, all is in action in Little Poland. Bierzinſki is endeavouring to make himſelf acknowledged as Marſhal, and has ſince publiſhed a manifeſto on that ſubject.

October 21. A circular letter which the Pruſſian Miniſter has ſent to the Confederates of Poland and Lithuania, by order of the King his maſter, is dated the 4th of this month, and is expreſſive. In this they complain of many wrongs done to the Pruſſian ſubjects, and deſire a ſpeedy remedy, except they have a mind to incur the diſpleaſure and averſion of a monarch, who, in a very ſhort time can ſend 50, or 60,000 men to bring them to reaſon. We learn that the Turks have all repaſſed the Danube. It is ſaid they are divided into two parties, who make war one againſt the other.

BOSTON, December 18.

BY the lateſt Letters from ENGLAND, written by Perſons of Character and the beſt Intelligence, we are adviſed, That notwithſtanding all that has been ſaid and induſtriouſly circulated of the Non-Importation of Britiſh Goods into America having no Effect, the great Manufacturing Towns in England, ſuch as Woolverhampton, Birmingham, &c. very ſenſibly feel the Agreement of our Merchants, and complain of thoſe who reduced us to the Neceſſity of theſe Meaſures; ſome of them ſay the Redreſs would now come too late; their labouring People began to hanker after the good cheap Living and Freedom of America; and many of them would never be eaſy till they got there.---It has been ſuggeſted, that if the American Societies were to eſtabliſh a Fund appropriated to the ſupporting Engliſh Manufacturers and their Families, who ſhould come to America, until a Settlement and Employment could be found for them---if ſuch Meaſure, when eſtabliſhed, was made known in England, and proper Correſpondencies ſettled there, to forward ſuch ſober and induſtrious, and uſeful Manufacturers as were deſirous of going---if Encouragement was given to Maſters who give them their Paſſage---a whole Flood of ſuch is ſo ready to pour in upon us---that although our Ships do not at preſent freight with their Manufactures, they would come full-freighted with Manufacturers.----There can be no Crime, ſay theſe Letters, in one Part of the King's Dominions trying to rival another in the Spirit of Trade and Manufactures, ſo long as all coincide to the ſame Intereſt: So long as any Set of People can be ſaid to be at Liberty to judge of the Terms on which they are to purchaſe, nobody can impute it as a Crime againſt the Sellers, if the Buyers chooſe to abſtain from the Purchaſe of ſuch Articles as the Sellers have clogg'd with Terms of Sale that theſe Buyers do not approve of and will not agree to: On the contrary the abſtaining from the importing ſuch Articles as we can do without, or ought to raiſe and make amongſt ourſelves, has a Home-merit.---It is not, they obſerve, our Advantage to be a trading People, if all the Profits of our Labour are to derive to others---It is to the Diſadvantage of Great-Britain if we ceaſe to trade.---If Great-Britain was to ſhut up all our Ports, and to exclude us from the Ocean, it would, by that very Act drive us to the Exerciſe of our proper Intereſt, a Trade like that of China, founded on the internal Interchange of the Manufactures of its various Provinces, lying as thoſe of America do under various Climes.---They further ſay, that while the Aſſociations of Oeconomy againſt importing Luxuries, &c. circulated only amongſt the Merchants, they had no great Truſt or Apprehenſion about it---Importing is their Buſineſs, and they muſt live by it: Their Reſolutions therefore againſt ſuch could act only as temporary: But they were Apprehenſive that the Spirit which began and even grew up in the maritime and trading Towns, nor in its natural Soil, would ſoon take Root in the Country----which when it had once done, it never could be again eradicated.---Theſe Letters further ſay, That the People in Ireland are very curious after the State of Things in America, and much intereſted in the State of the Conteſt between Great-Britain and her Colonies: They are impreſſed with a Fellow-feeling for America, as the Fate of their own Country, ſo far as it is one of the Dependencies of the ſupreme Government, muſt in ſome Meaſure coincide with that of America.----The Subject of the Augmentation of the Iriſh Army is much talk'd of among the Members of their Parliament: The Crown deſires an Augmentation, which is not yet complied with:-----The preſent Eſtabliſhment is 12,000 Men----the Crown wiſhes them to encreaſe the Eſtabliſhment to 15,000 Men. Amongſt other Arguments againſt this, it is ſaid the following will be applied next Seſſions in Ireland:-----"That 12,000 Men, if applied to the Purpoſe for which they are ſuppoſed to be raiſed, that is for the Protection of Ireland and the Engliſh Government there, are ſufficient:---If the Meaſure of withdrawing the Men of this Army to extra Purpoſes is to continue, an Augmentation ad infinitum would be to no Purpoſe, ſo far as reſpects them, and if they are deſired to raiſe and pay an additional Number of Troops for the Purpoſes of --------- of American Expeditions, they will not accede and be acceſſary to ſuch Purpoſes: But if they can have any Aſſurance that the additional Number of Men now deſired to be raiſed ſhall be as Guards and Garriſons to Ireland, or for the immediate Defence of Great-Britain, if attacked, they will agree to the Augmentation."----They will try to clog the Augmentation with ſome ſuch Clauſe, and will avowedly give the Reaſon as above.

NEWPORT, (in Rhode-Iſland) December 18.

We hear from Nantucket, that on the 8th Inſtant a Fire broke out there in a large three Story Brick Warehouſe, in which was depoſited Sixty Suits of Sails, belonging to different Veſſels, which were laid up for the Winter Seaſon; and alſo a conſiderable Quantity of Duck, and had got to ſuch a Height before it was diſcovered, that Thirty-three Suits of the Sails were entirely conſumed, as was a large Part of the Duck: The Warehouſe was alſo entirely conſumed except the bare Walls: The Inhabitants behaved with great Spirit upon the Occaſion, and by the help of ſeveral Engines, and pulling down a Smith's Shop when the Fire began, prevented it's communicating to a very large, new Warehouſe, which would have endangered the whole Town; and 'twas very happy for the Place, that the Accident happened at high Water, when they had Water handy, and an Opportunity of removing the Veſſels which were near the Fire, otherwiſe great Part of their Navigation muſt have been burnt. 'Tis ſaid the Fire broke out in the middle Story of the Warehouſe, which was improved as a Rigging Loft, the Workmen being abſent, who had left Fire in their ſteaming Kettle.
